

Joint Security Committee

Terms of Reference

(approved by the JSC on 8 August 2010)

Background

1. Following the Djibouti Peace Agreement, and in line with the establishment of a national unity Transitional Federal Government (TFG) in January 2009, there is a consensus between the TFG and the international community (IC) that the provisions of the Djibouti Peace Agreement remain the guiding principles for the development of Somalia's security sector for the remainder of the extended transitional period to 2011.

2. Accordingly, both the composition and mandate of the Joint Security Committee (JSC) have been amended following a request from the TFG. The joint nature of the JSC now refers to the partnership between the TFG and the IC, whilst its mandate has been expanded to cover transitional security arrangements and security sector governance, including issues of military reform, police reform, disarmament, demobilization and reintegration, mine action, criminal justice reform, and correctional services reform. The reshaped JSC will be the mechanism through which the TFG and the IC jointly coordinate all issues pertaining to security matters of the Somali security sector. The mandate of the JSC will expire one month upon the expiry of the transitional period.
